THE BIG IDEA

In a world where uncertainty is inevitable, the ability to embrace the unknown is the key to growth, clarity, and personal fulfillment. By tapping into your intuition and following life's subtle clues, you can turn fear and rejection into stepping stones toward your dreams. This keynote reveals a clear process for courageous decision-making and inspired action, allowing women to thrive in their personal lives, careers, and relationships.

KEYNOTE DESCRIPTION

In today's fast-paced world, over 74% of women admit to holding back on pursuing goals and dreams due to self-doubt and fear of the unknown. We often wait for confidence or the perfect moment, but that moment never arrives. The path forward is filled with uncertainty, rejection, and discomfort, leaving many women stuck in indecision.

As 7x award-winning humanitarian recognized alongside the Dalai Lama, shares her personal experiences, from living with the Maasai Tribe in Tanzania to walking pumas in Bolivia. Her journey of following life's breadcrumbs and trusting her intuition will help women understand how stepping into the unknown can open the door to growth and opportunity.

Through her process of discovery, Katie equips women with practical tools to take inspired action, even before they feel ready. She reveals how courage— not confidence— is the real driver of success.
